REFLECTION QUESTIONS

1. What components of assessing and reporting do you incorporate into your daily practice?
2. How is data usually collected, analyzed and reported?
3. What data do you have available in your organization or program that can be disaggregated?
4. What data are you missing?
5. What do you need to change to enhance your assessment and reporting practices?
6. Who can you partner with to enhance data on the social determinants of health and health equity in your community?
7. How do you communicate data and information on health equity to the public and partners?
8. What do you do to make sure the data that you report to the public is accessible and understood by all in your community?
9. How can the data be used to develop programs and policies to improve health equity?
